DEMOCRATS CHEER CHARLES S. WHITMAN

Hail Republican as "Next Governor"—Mistaken Identity.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The good ship Berkshire, bound for Albany with 125 New York Democrats aboard, en route to the State convention at Saratoga, called at the 132d street pier. The 125 were letting the world know they favored Judah S. Belmont. At 132d street one man came aboard.

"Here comes the next governor of the United States," shouted an observer on the foredeck.

Others took up the cry, and all hands scrambled to starboard to get a glimpse of the acclimated newcomer.

"Has the judge joined us?" was the general question.

Hardly smilingly walking aboard was Gov. Charles S. Whitman.

The Democrats took it good naturedly, the governor shook hands with some of the leaders, and everybody had a long laugh.

Starving Man Seizes $10,000 in Jewelry

NEWARK, Aug. 11.—Edward A. Smith smashed a window in Jean Tack's jewelry store.

Smith seized a tray of jewelry valued at $10,000, and was caught by A. T. Van Sant.

Miss Emma Moore, a clerk in Tack's employ, wrestled the jewelry from Smith's hand when he was struggling with his captor. Smith claimed he had nothing to eat in twenty-four hours.

Peel Off Your Freckles

To remove freckles, blotches or any complexion difficulty, the best thing to do is to remove the skin itself. This is easily and harmlessly done by the application of ordinary mercuric wax. The wax peels off the defective outer skin, a little each day, gradually bringing the second layer of skin to view. The new skin is beautifully soft, clear, white, and young looking. Just pour an ounce of mercuric wax at any drug store and use like cold cream.—Adv.

TELEFISH INDUSTRY NOW IS PROFITABLE

Remarkable Growth in Business and Popularity of Seafood
After Long Absence.

The American telefish industry is eight months old. A new industry, says the Providence Journal, is bound to be of economic importance, and none more so than one which directly contributes to the food supply. In the annals of the fisheries the story of the telefish is a unique romance, suggesting the age of miracles.

This fish disappeared from the sea more than thirty years ago, as the result of a marine catastrophe which the scientists have not been able to explain even to their own satisfaction.

Now the tide is back again, in vast abundance, in the waters just south of Long Island and extending as far east as Block Island. The reappearance was about as surprising as the disappearance. The fish appeared, and then vanished from their accustomed waters do not stay away so long. It had been supposed that the telefish was extinct.

Formerly it seems not to have been valued for food, one reason no doubt that it fetched no money. The sea food has been in ample supply. The population has doubled now, however, and the telefish has come back in the nick of time.

The Bureau of Fisheries, which began to promote the industry last October, reports that in the eight months, November to June, it has sold 3,000,000 pounds of telefish were landed at New York, and fares were brought into other parts of the country.

The telefish is a truly remarkable fish, showing, considering that the telefish was unknown to the table prior to last October.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Somebody's wearing a $50 Panama hat belonging to Judge T. H. McGarry, of Jacksonville, Fla., a hat which he saved it will be him some time to duplicate. In fact, Judge McGarry thinks that he never wore a hat like it.

Judge McGarry is not vexed—he's absolutely furious. If he ever expects the hat back, he will have to take it from the head of a dead man. To keep his hat and hair, too, before the wearer pro tem knows what's happened. The hat was stolen from him last night when the judge was enjoying a breeze in a taxicab.

A gust of wind swept the Panama from Judge McGarry's head just as he was bound for the Vanderbilt Hotel, at Thirty-fourth street and Park avenue. The hat bowed over the crossing at Fifth avenue and the judge went to follow it. The chauffeur insisted that his bill must first be paid. In the meantime the hat had been stolen.

When the judge reached Fifth avenue there was no Panama hat to be seen.

He went to the New York Detention House, and if Mrs. Sherman would pay this sum together with board and room for the time it has been cared for by her, she could have it without recourse to law.

Man Arrested on Way to Hospital Operating Room

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—As he was about to be taken into the operating room at the Jefferson Hospital, Antonio Martino, also known as Antonio Williams, was identified and placed under arrest by detectives.

He was charged with being a member of a gang of store burglars, who are accused of plundering central business establishments in the city last month, and when the judge reached Fifth avenue there was no Panama hat to be seen.

Martino was placed under surveillance and will be formally arrested and held in the city hall police court upon his recovery from the operation.

Alkali Makes Soap Bad for Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else for the hair. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, shiny, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt, and dandruff.—Adv.

RETAIL MERCHANTS PLAN TAX PROTEST

Special Meeting of Governors to Consider Matter.

The board of governors of the Retail Merchants' Association will hold a special meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon to consider a protest against the enactment of the Sterling amendment to the District appropriation bill. This provides a tax of four-tenths of one percent upon intangible personal property in the District.

Maryland will be represented at a conference in Washington next Thursday, to which health officials from every State have been invited.

The State quarantine theory, as represented in Maryland, will be pitted against each other. The theory that wins probably will become the standard.

Many Nicks in Row Over Nicked Nick

Xenodociosus, Arhagassenas, Demolavicolusiones, and Basiolocus Among Disputants.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—If Nicholas Xenodociosus had refrained from giving a nicked peanut roaster to his nephew, Nicholas Arhagassenas, St. Nicholas avenue, would not have resounded with one of the loudest cases ever heard there.

Fortunately for Arhagassenas he was able to prove, through the interpreter, Nicholas Demolavicolusiones, that the nicked peanut roaster given to him by his uncle had no nick in it, while that lost by Nicholas Zacharakas had one.

Nicholas Zacharakas, on the night of July 6 last, lost a nicked peanut roaster with a nick in it. Zacharakas, after wringing his hands and the cat's neck, decided to have a day of relaxation far from the scene of his loss. He stopped for a moment at the peanut stand of Nicholas Cocores.

While the contemporary peanut merchant was exchanging a few foreign words Zacharakas gave a scream, pointed to the official peanut roaster of the Cocores store and declared that it was his.

Cocores declared he had bought the peanut roaster from Nicholas Basiolocus. Basiolocus proved that he had bought the roaster from Nicholas Kashaneenas, who in turn swore that he had bought it from Nicholas Arhagassenas.

Arhagassenas proved that his uncle did give him a nicked peanut roaster with no nick in it and was straightway discharged. It was understood to corroborate him in the nick of time.

Lightning Hits Piano And Produces Music

SALEM, N. J., Aug. 11.—Orvan Keller is paralyzed on the left side of his body as the result of being stunned by lightning just as he was about to enter the George Armstrong home, near here, last night. The bolt struck an automobile in front of the house and ignited some matches which Mrs. Armstrong was carrying in her hand.

The bolt also struck the keys of a piano and produced music without injuring the instrument or firing the building.

Loses Fingers Under Train, But Saves Life

MILLVILLE, N. J., Aug. 11.—Falling under a train while making a flying drill on the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad, Elmer Hurd, a Cape May brakeman, sacrificed one of his hands and nearly lost his life. To keep his head from beneath the wheels, Hurd grasped the rail firmly and his hand was horribly mangled.

He was brought to the Millville Hospital on a special train. Several stitches were taken in a long scalp wound by Dr. H. Garrett Miller, and two fingers were amputated. He will recover.

1,000 "KIDS" GUESTS OF SALVATION ARMY

Happy Youngsters Taken to Marshall Hall for Outing on Steamer Macalester.

One thousand smiling faces belonging to 1,000 chattering children peered over the rail of the steamer Macalester as she drew away from her dock at the foot of Seventh street this morning. Handkerchiefs fluttered and shrill voices shouted farewell to friends on the wharf. The Salvation Army had chartered the boat and was giving an outing to the small dwellers in hot homes where little happiness creeps in.

The excursion was not confined exclusively to children. Many of the smaller ones were accompanied by their mothers. And the grown-ups appeared to be as sincerely happy and appreciative as the veriest amusee-faced boy on the boat.

Through its agents the Salvation Army distributed the tickets several days ago, and Brigadier William Escott, the divisional officer, with fifteen assistants, was at the wharf to greet the guests of the army.

At Marshall Hall a program has been arranged that will include entertainment and amusement for practically every minute until the steamer warms back at 4:30.

Lunches were distributed at noon; at 2 o'clock mothers were given milk for their babies, and at 3 o'clock every one will be served with ice cream.

SOLDIER LOST JOB; EMPLOYER IS HELD

Alleges Discharge Because He Went to State Camp.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Magistrate Groehl, in the Morrisania court, has denied a motion to dismiss the case against J. H. Hagelund, general manager of the Blue Valley Butter Company, who is charged with having deprived Sgt. Benjamin Silverman of the Thirty-first Company, Eighth Coast Artillery, National Guard, of employment because of his absence at the State encampment at Camp H. G. Wright last July.

Testimony during the hearings brought out the fact that Silverman and Hagelund had been agreed on militia affairs and that before enlisting for a second term, Silverman, through his captain, had obtained a statement from Hagelund to the effect that he did not object to having his men in the militia. It further was shown that Silverman, when he received his orders to report for the encampment thought that he might possibly see service outside of the State, and for that reason produced John J. Noonan substitute.

Houdini Performs For Sing Sing Men

But Handcuff King Is Barred From Showing Convicts How to Open Cells.

SING SING, N. Y., Aug. 11.—The performance of "Houdini, the Handcuff King," was unsatisfactory to the 1,600 prisoners.

He failed to show them how to open a cell door or how to get on the other side of a twenty-foot wall.

There was some interest, however, when Fred Dornor, principal keeper, fastened handcuffs on Houdini's wrists, manacles on his ankles and chained them together with padlocks, and when Houdini freed himself in five minutes.

But they do not use handcuffs or manacles in the prison under the reform rule, nor do they employ a straitjacket, from which Houdini freed himself in three minutes, or a packing case, from which he emerged in two minutes.

An insistent demand that he demonstrate his skill on a cell door looked a feat that would do the prisoners some real service, was ignored, perhaps by request of Warden Osborne, who was in the audience with two women.

The exhibition was under the auspices of the Mutual Welfare League, the sergeant at arms being in charge. No guards or keepers were present.
